

The problem is not a lack of information. It is the fog.

Make US study, career and settlement decisions understandable, sourced and updateable.

Initial audience hypothesis: Turkish-speaking people exploring US pathways.

The decisions are connected. The information is scattered.

School. Budget. Applications. Career. Settlement.

A new fact can change the next decision. The route needs to stay understandable.

A route you can inspect.

Separate facts from assumptions, preferences and unknowns.

Connect claims to sources and dates.

Sequence dependent decisions; update the route when conditions change.

One question at a time. One visible route.

Answer six questions to explore six pathway options.

Get a suggested route, context and first actions. No account or email required.

Help us make the route clearer.

Which decision would you bring to this system?

Where would you ask for a source?

What would you need before trusting the next step?